RATIFICATION OF TREATY NEARAdministration Officials Declare
Pact Passage Soon

ARRANGE POST-PEACE PLANS

Immediate Steps Will be Taken to Finish DetailsWASHINGTON.—The peace treaty is now nearer ratification than at any time since it was laid before the senate, in the belief of administration officials.Steps which must follow its ratification, Friday are being considered.One of the first will be a conference between President Wilson and Secretary Lansing for the purpose of arranging the details incident to American representatives taking their places in the league of nations
council and assembly.Another matter which is to be taken up by this conference, and which has to do with adjusting America's international relations, is appointment of diplomatic representatives to the following countries:China, Siam, Denmark, Switzerland, The Netherlands, Finland, and Mexico. Later the selection of a diplomat to go to Germany will be considered.When the United States representatives to the league council and assembly have been chosen, America's policy with regard to punishment of German war guilty, acceptance of mandatories and furnishing of troops or plebiscites, will be known.Other league members will be quietly advised, it is believed, that sending American troops overseas at this time, would be unpopular here,
and therefore the league will not suggest that they take part in maintaining order during plebiscites. On this point, it is recollected Wilson
has said:"When the treaty is ratified, boys
in khaki will not have to cross the seas again."The league, it is expected, would not propose acceptance of a mandatory by the United States just now,
unless this country should volunteer
to take one, which is considered
extremely unlikely.If the German treaty is ratified, quick action is looked for on the Austrian treaty and the temporary agreement between the United States and Great Britain for protection of France.WORLD COURT IS CONSIDEREDCouncil of League of Nations Formulate PlansLONDON.—The council of the league of nations is considering appointment of eleven jurists of international reputation to compose a commission for an international court of justice, it was learned Friday.The name of Elihu Root has been mentioned as a member of the commission. Root's name has been urged, it was said, regardless of whether the United States becomes a member of the league. Members believed his presence eminently desirable, and it was said, his appointment, even if America refuses
the league—if such action is found possible. Otherwise his presence will be contingent upon America's entry.Other names mentioned included
Professor Fadda, Italy; Rafael Al-maraz, Spain; Senor Draga, former minister of foreign affairs in Argentina, and Lord Phillimore, Great Britain.The council, in its secret meeting
Thursday was reported to have arrived at several important decisions
including an official reaffirmation of Switzerland's neutrality, possibly creating the precedent for the American senate's reservation refusing to allow American military forces
abroad.The council also has decided, it was said, to appoint a committee of international medical experts to draw up plans to be presented to the next league meeting. The name of Dr. Alexis Carrel, has been mentioned. It was maintained he will be urged to served.The question of international communication, waters and waterways,
also was discussed. The council decided to guarantee Polish minorities.

sage was sent broadcast to all westbound vessels of the United States shipping board, Friday, instructing them to maintain a close watch for the steamer Avondale, reported drifting Thursday with her engines
disabled about 170 miles southeast of Nantucket light.The United States naval radio station here has received a wireless communication from the Avondale, asking immediate aid. The steamer
according to the message, has little fuel with which to maintain heat
and lights and the food supply is low.In response to the message the United States coast guard cutter
Seneca set out from New York. The Avondale has been instructed by radio to establish communication with designated ships which may be able to reach her first and give a tow. The Seneca could not tow the vessel.Wireless calls for assistance were received Friday from the United States shipping board 9,000 ton

TO PROHIBITIONCould Not Operate Vessels Without Floating Saloons

PAYNE MAKES STATEMENT

Steamers Will Not be Sold to Foreign Interests(BULLETIN)
Following the denunciation
of the shipping board's plan in the senate, John Barton Payne,
chairman of board, was hastily summoned to appear before the senate commerce committee
Friday afternoon.A debate on the sale of the ships broke out in the senate.
Representative Mead, New York
made public a letter from Chairman Payne, of the shipping board, saying the ships can be sold to best advantage now and declaring prohibition makes government operation of ships
unprofitable.WASHINGTON.—Constitutional prohibition which makes government-owned passenger vessels dry,
was given Friday by John Barton
Payne, chairman of the shipping board, as the main reason for the sale of 29
former German liners to be auctioned next Monday.Government operation of these vessels under such conditions cannot be successful and the ships can be sold to better advantage now
than later in the opinion of board
officials, Payne declared in a letter
to Representative Mead, New York
Friday.Payne pointed out that the cost of re-conditioning 20 of the liners
would be $57,000,000, while the bids for these vessels were $20,000,- 300."In view of the present situation," Payne wrote, "it did not seem to us
we were justified in incurring so large an expense."The shipping board chairman denied that the vessels would fall into the hands of foreign interests, because the vessels will be sold only under the conditions that they shall remain under the American flag and be sailed in routes indicated by the shipping board."This, we believe, will adequately
protect the United States," Payne wrote. "It is the opinion of the shipping board that we will probably not be able to operate passenger ships under prohibition successfully in competition with foreign ships which sell liquor.""The reason why this is
"In December, we fitted out the Moccasin to sail to South America.
Her berth was all sold. When I announced that in view of the policy
of congress, government ships would not be permitted to sell liquor, one-half of the sailings were immediately cancelled.""Conditions in the shipping world
are such that it is our conviction that there never will be a time when we can sell our ships to better advantage than now, and since it is our conviction that the ships can be successfully operated in private ownership, we believe the sale
should be made."Lively discussion of the proposal to sell the German ships cropped out in the senate, where Senator Ash-hurst, introduced a resolution forbidding disposition of the ship except at public sale to the highest bidder three months after notice of intention to sell.Ashurst also had Payne's letter.
He declared flatly that the shipping
board proposes selling for $28,000,- 000 a fleet which at pre-war prices
was worth $154,000,000 and at present rates worth $300,000,000."The price at which they propose to sell these ships is about $30 a ton," Senator Ashhurst said. "En-
dland offered $125 a ton for them."

Talks on Big Reservoir

READY TO COMPLETE WORK

Says His Company Will Lose
Large AmountGeorge Woolfolk, constructing engineer in the employ of the U. S. Fidelity and Guaranty company, in Lima to complete the construction of the billion gallon reservoir charged delay by former city officials and politics by the present administration for failure to have water in the container at the present time.Woolfolk was sent here by the bonding company after the original contract held by John H. Jones, had been declared defaulted by the city.
The engineer stated that he notified city officials on June 3 of last year that the reservoir was ready to hold water to 35 per cent of its capacity.Brush, stumps and weeds were removed and the huge hole in the ground placed in shape to receive the supply of water he said. This course would not hamper the work of construction of the remainder of the reservoir, Woolfolk said. He said that former city officials indicated no desire to turn water into the big hole.
He refused to urge the matter.A growth of vegetation at the present time prevents the water from being turned into the container now, Woolfolk said.Sluice gates at the reservoir were faulty constructed by the original engineer, he held, but matter can be remedied easily.The bonding company stands ready to make all necessary improvements
at the gate house to place the gates in first class condition. Two men and 10 horses would suffice for the completion of the job, he said.Woolfolk declared the reservoir
will be completed two months after weather conditions permit workmen
to place rip-rap on all slopes of the pond. The container will then be turned over to the city and the bonding company's work completed, then.Woolfolk was asked if he had talked to Service Director McClain
in regard to the completion of the reservoir.He replied that the work was being held up by city officials seeking publicity and merging the completion of the job with politics. He stated he refused to negotiate with anyone who played party politics."I do not care what the issue among city officials happened to be,
my company stands ready to complete the job," Woolfolk said.The bonding company according to Woolfolk has already lost approximately $60,000 by the failure of the original contractor.LEAVES ENGLAND

land, after spending 18 months in Hartfordshire, England, said when he arrived late Thursday on the Saxonia from Liverpool.Young Rylett went to England to satisfy the whim of his uncle who wanted him to get an education and start a career in England. He found kindly school masters and companionable chums but he missed the

the local club and hotel visitors to

memories have now been converted into tea dens. Of course, one can get coffee and milk but tea has such a color 'n' glow. So now the men as well as women gossip just as idly
over their teacups as they once did
over the tall glasses in pre-draught days.

Receive President's Decision

TO GO INTO CONFERENCE

Will Make Strike Situation Public
In Next 48 HoursWASHINGTON.—President Wilson Friday handed representatives of 2,000,000 railroad workers his decision on their wage demands and at the same time submitted them a proposition which is expected to lead
to further negotiations, it was authoritatively stated at the White House. It was understood the president refused demands for immediate wage increases of approximately 40 percent. What constituted the counter-proposition was not disclosed by White House officials.The meeting of the railroad men,
who represent 14 railroad unions,
expected to frame a reply to Wilson's proposal as handed to their committee. This reply, which they hoped to send to the White House
late Friday, probably will be made public at the same time as the president's proposal, which will be given out Saturday.Committeemen said the president received them sitting in his wheel chair on the south portico of the White House. He was muffled up in blankets and wore a grey sweater
and visored golf cap. His hand-shake was firm, his gestures vigorous and his eye clear, according to the committeemen."Please put on your hats, gentlemen," said Wilson, with a smile as the hats touched their hats. "This is law."Shea said he remarked that the president appeared in good health,
to which Wilson replied with a laugh:"I have just been shaved, that makes a good deal of difference."
Immediately after seeing Wilson
the railroad men's committee consisting of Timothy Shea, president of the firemen; E. J. Manion, head of the Railroad Telegraphers and E. M.
Jewell, head of the American Federation of Labor, railway department
met other railroad representatives
at a hotel. This meeting lasted only a few minutes and the union men
then went to A. F. of L. headquarters for a further conference.Following the White House conference, the railroad administration
let it be known that it would issue
a statement late Friday on the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way
Employees, the only one of the 14
railroad unions which has set a strike date.John Malloy, vice president of the Brotherhood, was not at the general meeting of union representatives of the A. F. of L., but other leaders were trying to reach him. Malloy said before the White House conference
that his brotherhood would strike
next Tuesday unless the wage demands are granted.Union men at the meeting refused to say whether the president's
"proposition dealt with living costs,
but it was believed that this phase of the situation was mentioned since
the increase in prices was the basis
for the wage demands."SEARCH COUNTRY

nal HospitalAuthorities at the State Hospital
for Criminal Insane were sending broadcast Friday inquiries asking aid in the search for Charles Parker, 45, negro, an inmate, who escaped
from the institution Thursday night.
Toledo police have been notified
to be on the lookout for the man.
He was committed from there to the Ohio Penitentiary.Parker made his getaway when he removed a section of a medicine
cabinet in one of the ward bathrooms and climbed thru a narrow passageway to the attic and then thru
a skylight to the roof of the building.He lowered himself to window guards and then climbed three stories to the ground. He used a rope made of bed sheets.Parker was sent to the penitentiary November 15, 1918 for forgery.
He was committed to the local institution January 6, 1917.

THREE VALVES ARE BROKEN

Two Small Lines Carry Cities
Entire Water SupplyReports have reached the office of Mayor Burkhardt that water mains
under the public square serving as chief arteries for the distribution system were found to have been rendered useless thru the breaking of three valves controlling the flow, it was learned Friday.What caused the breakage of the valves putting the lines out of commission was not given out at City Hall.The lines intersect in the square controlling the supply of water to all sections of the city.The mains are holding water at the present time, Mayor Burkhardt stated, but were useless by reason of the valves refusing to work.The water is carried around the main lines by two 6 inch pipes at the present time. All the water that flows to all parts of the city must pass thru the smaller pipes, he said,
and added that he regarded the situation as serious. If the small pipes under excessive pressure, should break, the city would be without water for a time.Repairs that would put the mains
back into commission will be made but this might take weeks and the public would be inconvenienced thru
the shutting of the water supply until repairs were made.Who is responsible for the present condition was not positively stated
by Burkhardt.Service Director McClain declined Friday that he had been aware of the condition for some time.The condition of the Acting Superiintendent of Water Works Edwin A.
city officials was under way to means to proceed in the matter.A water line at Union and Markets was held by Mayor Burkhardt to be in a defective condition. He stated that the line was dug up to permit the removal of a fire hydrant
to a more suitable location due to the erection of a gasoline filling station at that point. The line was partially cut to disconnect the hydrant,
Burkhardt said.The line is in danger of parting
at any time. Interurban cars passing this corner were liable to sever
the pipe thru vibration, he said.Contractors who put in concrete work over the pipe when covering up the defect communicated the information to the city officials.WOMEN PLAN NEW PROGRAMWill Combat H. C. L. and Raise
Standards of CitizenshipBY CARIE CHAPMAN CATT
CHICAGO.—Reduction of the cost of living and of the number of illiterate voters and the raising of standards of citizenship and of laws
for the protection of women and children, were the problems occupying the attention of delegates to the 51st annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage
Association and the League of Women Voters here Friday.Advice as to methods for accomplishing these ends—the result of a
years laboratory work of the new league—has been formulated for the consideration of the delegates.The facts compiled by the eight national committees of the league have been eagerly absorbed by the hundreds of delegates representing every state in the union, who attend
thru their own organizations, or organizations of men and women and the political parties, to effect legislation
which will improve citizens and citizenship.In every conference Thursday, the league made it clear that it is not
to dissolve any present organization,
but to unite all existing organizations
of women who believe in its principles. It is not to create sex an-tagonism, but to develop co-operation between men and women. It is not to lure women from partisanship, but
to combine them in an effort for isolation, which will protect every movement which we cannot get a foretell from the untoward conditions which have hindered for so long
the coming of equal suffrage.Next week, the result of these conferences will come before the conference for adoption of a legislative platform. But for the next few days,
the National Suffrage Association
will have the floor, rejoicing over its victory and reviewing the momentous events of the past few months.BAND OF ARMED MEN

FRANCHISES WILL BE GONE OVER

Council and Joint Committee to Discuss Various Points

Following final deliberation of the proposed franchises for light, power and street cars, city council will submit to the Joint Committee at Chamber of Commerce auditorium Friday night some changes it recommended before the drafts are sent to the Ohio Electric company.

The proposal of the Joint Committee seeking to employ a street railway commissioner to control rates and improvements has not met with the entire approval of the councilmen, President Dempster said Friday.

The Joint Committee will be told that the commissioner to be appointed should be a man from a list who have never been in the employ of the Ohio Electric company, the council head stated.

A proposition in the proposed light franchise dealing with the candle power of drop lights will be changed. Voltage must be maintained at a stated figure if best results are to be obtained, it is declared. Low voltage lights burned in pairs or groups failed to render the same service as single lights of higher voltage, Dempster said.

Old style are lamps struck a snag with the councilmen when they ruled against the present form of street lighting. Modern type lights are sought before the franchise is approved.

WILLIAM PANGLE DIES

William Pangle, 64, Ashton-ave., died Friday morning after a three weeks' illness from complications. He was born in Lima. Mrs. C. B. Miller, 336 W. McKibben-st., Mrs. D. R. Jenkins, 725 N. West-st., and Mrs. Anna Jennings, 671 N. West-st., are surviving sisters. Private funeral services will be held at the Williams and Davis mortuary Monday at 9:30 o'clock. Interment will be at Woodlawn.

FAILURE TO PROVIDE CHARGED

Failure to provide her a home and the necessities of life are charged in the divorce suit of Mazie M. Pelling against Guy I. Pelling, Cuyahoga-co. She says she was compelled to depend upon her own efforts and friends and relatives for support. They were married in September, 1905 and have a son Robert, 14.

GEORGE BALDWIN DIES

George Baldwin, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Baldwin, 1310 S. Main-st., died Thursday afternoon of tuberculosis. The parents, four brothers and three sisters survive. He was born in Columbus Grove and the body will be accompanied there for interment. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 1:30 o'clock at the residence.

NEW UNIFORMS FOR COPS ARE NOW BEING ORDERED

When the spring fashion parade begins to move here the police department will be represented in the procession, with brand new uniforms, Police Chief Roush announced Friday.

New outfits for all of the blue coats are now being ordered and will be in the city by April 1, the Chief claims.

The coat, if the new outfit will be of the roll-collar effect in place of the military style collar being worn now.

SPECIAL ENLISTMENTS IN ARMY OPENED HERE

Enlistments for special units of Uncle Sam's fighting forces assigned to Ohio were opened Friday at the local recruiting station. A detail of men under command of Captain Jansen have been placed in the Lima district to boost recruiting for these organizations.

The outfits are the 2nd and 40th Infantry, 7th Cavalry, and 7th and 14th Field Artillery. The Second regiment of infantry is the oldest outfit in the United States, having been organized in 1791.

POLICEMEN REVIEWED

Mayor Frank Burkhardt and Safety Director Fred Fisher, Thursday reviewed Chief of Police Roush's bluecoats at the afternoon roll call. The review was the first passed by the patrolmen before the city's chief official since he has taken office.

HE GOT HEARING

R. H. Clarke, 749 W. Spring-st., traffic violator, wanted an immediate hearing Friday morning and preferred appearing at Judge Hamilton's court to awaiting arrival at Criminal Court office of Judge Jackson. He was granted his desire with the result that it cost him $4.05 for operating his machine without a full light. Other violators had been fined but $1 by Judge Jackson.

21 men, 7 dressed in women's elaborate evening gowns were arrested last week at the home of former Mayor Arthur C. Harper, of Los Angeles, among those arrested was the former Mayor's youngest son, Joseph H. Harper, 24 years old. He was one of those dressed in women's attire. The charge made against the party was "vagrancy and lewdness." According to young Harper they were "giving the party just to have a little fun."

STORY OF CHRIST'S TRIAL IS TOLD BY EVANGELIST

Stereopticon views of China, Japan, India and Africa will be used tonight in the opening services at South Side Church of Christ revival. At the close Mrs. Minges will sing "New Born King" also illustrated with the stereopticon. The subject of the sermon will be "Does It Pay?" In the first part of his sermon, last night, Evangelist Minges retold the story of the trial of Christ in a vivid manner. His text was "What Think Ye of Christ?" He said that this test is brought to every man today and that he must sooner or later answer it.

He also stated that religion is not getting into the baptistry and getting out again but it is what one lives seven days in the week, and then devoted a few minutes in democracy the bigoted, self righteous and church members who would place himself in the blue light of the Lord's work.

He was warmly applauded by his audience when he said that churches should be open seven days in the week and should be used as a gathering place for the young people; that every church should have a moving picture machine and other amusements.

EX-KAISER HALTS ACTION OF SON

Forbids Former Crown Prince to Surrender Self

BERLIN — The former kaiser has forbidden his son, the former crown prince, to surrender himself to the allies and has requested the Dutch government to prevent such procedure, the Kreuz Zeitung said Wednesday.

A cablegram received in Washington Tuesday, signed by the former crown prince and addressed to President Wilson, said Frederick William would surrender himself to the allies for trial if charges against the other accused Germans, in the allied list of war guilty, were dismissed.

CANDY, SWEET NOthings HEAL WOUNDED HEARTS

CHICAGO.—A box of candy and some sweet nothings, such as he whispered to her just as they were getting ready to march up the church aisle, of the Court of Domestic Relations, the finest antidotes in the world for the domestic tribulations which daily are being aired before him.

The judge's advice was given to Earle Peterson, a locomotive fireman, after his wife had told the judge that as a birthday gift her husband had presented her with two black eyes.

Well Known Lima Man Praises Nuxite For What It Has Done For Him.

There Is Nothing Like It Declares Mr. H. R. Funk, 1039 Forest Ave., Lima, Ohio.

Says He Never Felt Better in His Life Than He Does Now.

I count myself lucky that I got hold of Nuxite as I never felt better since I began taking it. I have gained in weight was the statement made by Mr. H. R. Funk, laborer, who lives at 1039 Forest Ave., Lima, Ohio. "For some time," stated Mr. Funk in explaining his case, "my appetite was very poor. When I ate my supper and after retiring I would fidget about. Most all night could not sleep, stomach bothered me. I was nervous and restless, gas would form in my stomach, cause a bloating and shortness of breath. Gas would form around my heart and seem to cut my breath off. I thought I had heart trouble but stomach trouble was not all Nuxite relieved me of. I had a headache and at times very dizzy I felt ashamed to walk on the street as I would take those dizzy spells so bad that at times my head seemed to be spinning around like a top and I was so weak and tired all the time that I never felt like doing a lick of work. I have tried several medicines but they never seemed to help me. I read quite a lot in Lima papers about the great good Nuxite was doing our own people here in Lima. I decided to give it a trial, after taking a bottle it seemed to straighten me right up, my appetite was never so good as it is now. I can eat three rousing meals a day, without the least trouble with my stomach. I sleep like a boy. That tired feeling has left me entirely.

There are thousands of people suffering everywhere from headache, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, depression of spirit and stomach, liver and kidney disorders. Nuxite which is a powerful reconstructive tonic, appetizer and invigorator, is what they need. It builds up the system, creates healthy appetite, aids and promotes digestion and makes you feel strong, sturdy and well. There is no doubt about the fact. Nuxite preparation Mr. H. R. Funk refers to is being explained at Hunter's public square drug store, by W. R. Cooper and may be obtained at Theo. Siewert Drug Store, St. Marys, Ohio; Forest D. Christian, Sidney, Ohio; S. E. Lewis, Columbus Grove; H. C. Richardson, Spencer, Ohio; Central Drug Store, Wapakoneta.

Be Rid of Painful Corns

"Geta-It" Makes Them Loosen Up So They Lift Off Painlessly.

There's no more pain after a few drops of "Geta-It" lands upon corns or calluses and instantly dries.

In a day or two you lift the old misery-maker right off without even feeling it. That's the fact. Mr. Corn and who have lost their corns the "Geta-It" way say it is the only common-sense way to get rid of the pests. "Geta-It" the never-failing, guaranteed money-back corn remover costs but a trifle at any drug store. Sold by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago. Sold in Lima and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Hunter's.

This photo of Major General Wood was taken during one of the few brief visits he has been able to enjoy with his family since he world war began. Wood's duties in the field preparing the U. But the presidential boom started by his friends made it necessary for him to start almost immediately on a nation-wide speaking tour.

WILD MAN CAUGHT IN COLORADO

Wild-Eyed Recluse. Garbed in Animal Skins, Believed Insane

CAPTURED IN BIG CAVE

Believe He Was Led to Solitude
After Unfortunate Love Affair

DURANGO, Colo.—Has Colorado unearthed a counterpart of the famous Wild Man of Borneo?

That is the question puzzling officials of La Poudre County in southwestern Colorado.

The Wild Man of Borneo was a more ferocious looking than the wild-eyed, emaciated creature that is languishing in the county jail here, according to Sheriff Alexander, who with the aid of two deputies, captured the gorilla-like human in a cave in Animas Canon, north of this city.

Tall and gaunt, with long, unkempt hair streaming from beneath a ragged cap, matted whiskers, his hairy body draped in skins of wild animals, with strips cut from the hide of a mountain bear encasing his feet, the strange man was trapped in his isolated mountain cave by the county officers and brought here for investigation. The atoms of wild beasts exuded from his body when he was captured, the officers said.

The captive is believed insane, but how long he has been imprisoned in the mountain den is a mystery.

During brief moments the wild stranger says that he has been roaming the hills of the San Juan country for years; that he first sought solitude in the canons and caves because of bitterness over unrequited love for a beautiful girl. A faded picture of a young woman and strands of golden hair, found on the "wild man" head authorities to believe his condition is due to an unfortunate love affair.

Efforts to learn his name have been unsuccessful, and he invariably reverts to unattractive animal sounds when questioned as to his identity.

Fantastic stories of the presence of a "wild man" in the nearby hills became current in the village of Rockwood. For several weeks it was said the "wild man" had been slinking through the timber of the Durango National Forest, but always succeeded in evading pursuers from the village.

When the stories of the man's activities of the strange recluse were brought to Sheriff Alexander, he immediately started for the scene with two deputies. After a few days' vigil they located the cave in which the man made his unlikely home.

The entrance was skillfully concealed with brush and rocks.

The officers encountered great difficulty in reaching the cave, as the entrance was at the top of an almost perpendicular path, and they were forced carefully to pick their way along narrow ledges.

When trapped the man offered no resistance. No weapon of any kind

"Sea-going" autos on street in water-front district, Norfolk, and wrecked bungalow near beach

was found upon his person or in the cave, but in the long, narrow tunnel where he had "lived" for sometime were discovered many utensils and a quantity of bear meat.

Assistant Prosecutor, Attorney John O'Rourke, of Durango, has held several interviews with the "wild man," who is confined in the insane ward of the county jail. O'Rourke says the prisoner is never violent, but frequently grunts and growls like some wild animal. At other times, when he appears rational, he talks glibly of his nomadic existence, telling of having fought wild beasts in the mountain fastnesses, some of which he killed for food; of being shot at by hunters, who mistook him for an animal; or lying in lonely canons when his only food was rats and chipmunks; or having spent weeks in mountain cabins, perched in by huge snowdrifts.

The "wild man," according to Prosecutor O'Rourke, has told a harrowing tale of suffering from exposure. He said his feet had been frozen and, when mortification set in, he pulled the drying toes from their sockets and scoured the wounds with red hot rocks to check the spread of gangrene. Occasionally, when he suffered excruciatingly from hunger, the wanderer licked mountain rocks to obtain a taste of salt.

Examinations to determine the man's sanity are being made by county physicians, while the District Attorney's office is making every effort to discover some trace of his origin.

THE BRANDING IRON

A Story of the East and West

COPYRIGHTED BY
KATHERINE N. BURN

Yarnall swore. "Her name, as she gave it," said he, "is Jane. But, my boy, you can't see her. She left this morning."

Pierre raised a white, tense face. "Left?" He turned as if he would run after her.

"Yes, sir. These people I've had here took her away with them. That is, they've been urging her to go, but she'd refused. Then, suddenly, this morning, just as they were putting the trunks in, up came Jane, white as chalk, asking them to take her with them, said she must go. Well, sir, they sided her up with some traveling clothes and drove away with her. That was six hours ago. By now they're in the train, bound for New York."

Yarnall's guest looked at him without speaking, and Yarnall nervously went on. "She's been with us about six months. Landis, and I don't know anything about her. She was tall, gray eyes, black hair, slow speaking, and with the kind of voice to be apt to notice. Yes, I see she's the girl you've been looking for. I can give you the New York people's address, but first, for Jane's sake, I think a lot of Jane, I'll have to know what you want with her—what she is to you."

Pierre's pupils widened till they filled all but swallowed the smoke-colored. "She is my wife," he said.

Again Yarnall swore. But he lit a cigarette and took his time about answering. "Well, sir," he said, "you must excuse me, but—it was because she saw you, I take it, that Jane cut off this morning. That's clear now. I don't know what would make a girl run off from her husband. She might have a number of reasons bad and good, but it seems to me that it would be a pretty strong one that would make a girl run off with a look as she wore, from a man like

you. Did you treat her well, Landis?"

It had the effect of a lash taken by a penitent. The man shrank a little, whitened, endured. "I can't tell you how I treated her," he said in a dangerous voice; "it don't bear telling. But—I want her back. I was—I was—that was three years ago; I am more like a man now. You'll give me the people's name, their address?"

Pierre laid his hand on the older man's wrist and gave it a queer urgent and beseeching shake.

After a moment of searching scrutiny, Yarnall bent his head. "Very well," said he shortly; "come in."

A YOUNG man who had just landed in New York from one of the big, adventurous transatlantic lines hailed a taxicab and was quickly drawn away into the glitter and gaiety of a bright winter morning. Life sat forward eagerly looking at everything with the air of a lad on a holiday. He was a young man, but he was not in his first youth, and under a heavy sunburn he was pale and a trifle worn, but there were hawk eyes of greenish gray, a delicate peak a mouth and chin of cleverness. It was an interesting face and looked at though it had seen interesting things. In fact, Prosper Gael had just returned from his three months of ambulance service in France and it was the extraordinary success of his play, "The Leopardess," that had chiefly brought him back.

"Dear Luck," his manager had written, using the college title which Prosper's name and unvarying fortune suggested. "You'd better come back and gather up some of these laurels that are smothering you all. The time is very favorable for the disappearance of your anonymous its. I, for one, find it more and more difficult to keep the secret. So far, not even your stat books it. She calls you 'Mi Luck' to that extent I have been indiscreet."

Prosper had another letter in his pocket, a letter that he had re-read many times, emotions with an uneasy conflict of emotion. He was in a sort of hot-cold humor over it, in a fever-hot that had a way of turning into lassitude. He postponed analysis indefinitely. Meanwhile his eyes scanned the bright, cold city, its crowds, its traffics, its windows—most of all, its placards, and, not for to seek, there were the posters of "The Leopardess." He leaned out to study one of them; a tall, wild-eyed woman crouched to spring upon a man who stared at her in fear. Prosper dropped back with a gleaming smile of amused excitement. "They've made it look like cheap melodrama," he said to himself, "and yet it's a good thing, the best thing I've ever done. Yet they'll vulgarize the whole idea with their infernal notions of 'what the public wants.' Morena is as bad as the rest of them!" He expressed disgust, but underneath he was aglow with pride and interest.

There's a performance to-night I'll dine with Jasper. I'll have to see Betty first. "His thoughts trailed off and he fell into that hot-cold confusion, that uncomfortable scorching fog of mood. The cab turned into Fifth Avenue and became a scale in the creeping serpent of vehicles that glided, paused, and glided again past the thronged pavements. Prosper gripped everything with the grim courage and high-pitched tragedy of France. He could not but wonder at the detached frivolity of these money-spenders, these spinners in the sun. How soon would the shadow fall upon the minto and with what change of countenance would it "look up!" To him the joyousness seemed almost childish and yet he bathed his fagged spirit in it. How high the white-winter sky! How blue was the mid-winter sky! How the buildings towered how quickly the people stepped. Here were the great painted faces the absurd silk stockings, the tripping, exquisitely booted feet, the strutting walk, the tall, upspringing bodies of the women he remembered (To Be Continued)

LEXINGTON RIOTS MAY BE RESUMED

Hint of Renewed Attacks Revealed in Anonymous Letter

CINCINNATI — Postoffice authorities sought Friday to find the writer of an anonymous letter received by Dr. Keller W. Kirby, Covington, member of Company D, Kentucky state guards, threatening him and other guardsmen, because state troops fired into a mob which sought to lynch Will Lockett, negro, confessed murder, at Lexington Monday.

"Your time is coming soon," the letter said "You will be burned alive sooner or later. County Judge Frank A. Bullock, Circuit Judge Charles Kerr, Captain L. V. Crockett and the man who calls himself governor of Kentucky, also will be burned. Several were killed in Lexington, so more will be killed here." The letter was postmarked Cincinnati.

PIG IS WISEST IN ARAB VERSION OF THE PHARISEE PARABLE

PARIS.—An Arabic version of the biblical story of the Pharisee and the sinner is contained in a book of Arabian legends, most of them extracted from the Koran, which has just been published here.

The Christian said: I thank God for creating me a Christian and not a Jew.

The Jew said: I thank God for creating me a Jew and not a pagan.

The pagan said: Thanks be to the Divinity, I am a pagan and not an atheist.

The atheist said: I am happy that I am an atheist and not a dog.

The dog said: I render thanks to God that I am a dog and not a pig. The pig said: Praises to the Most High! I am a pig and am not ungrateful to our most merciful Father.

TOWN LOSES ENTIRE POLICE FORCE IN WEEK

NEW YORK.—A week ago Rockville Centre, L. I., boasted a police force of ten men under Captain Phillips. Today the whole department has gone to pieces, with the result residents are in a state of great alarm because of the recent visit of automobile burglars to that section.

Merchants and townfolk are considering sending a petition to Chief of Police Russ, who is Village President as well, asking him to restore six members of the force, who resigned after they were refused a salary increase.

The first disruption came when five men resigned in one night, and subsequently another patrolman and two special officers quit.

When the force was "the most efficient of on the island" burglaries were rare. The 6,000 population was dismayed when they read in the local paper, "Thieves Come to Town in Autos."

WOMAN MUST PAY HUBBY ALIMONY

Cleveland Court Awards Man $75 a Month From Wealthy Wife

CLEVELAND — Friday the 13th reversed itself for Forest A. Bidwell, 59.

In place of the traditional bad luck it brought him contentment and $75 per month for the rest of his life, or until he marries.

When his wife, Mrs. Mary E. Bidwell, 50, reputed to possess property valued at $200,000 filed suit for divorce, Bidwell protested it on the grounds that she was his sole support. The court took the case under advisement and Friday granted the divorce, but ordered the woman to pay Bidwell $75 monthly for life or until he re-marries.

The Bidwells were married in Portland, Ore., where the husband was employed in the internal revenue office. Bidwell said Mrs. Bidwell promised him the life of a "gentleman farmer" on her London, Ohio, farm.

UNITED BREWERS PLAN EMERGENCY CONVENTION

ATLANTIC CITY, N. Y. — The United States Brewers Association has called an emergency convention here at the Hotel Traymore for February 26 and 27. The convention has been twice postponed because of national developments. Noted attorneys are listed among the speakers.

Just what the programme will be has not been announced, although it is said that the brewers have some plans relative to prohibition that need "executive consideration" of the entire trade. A national programme that will have a strong campaign is reported to be foremost among the topics to be considered.

Prosperity and Promoters

The one is pretty apt to follow the other.

The lure of big returns is always held out by promoters of doubtful propositions.

A word of caution—look past the profits and into the proposition.

If you do, you'll often find that the risk far outweighs the returns.

And your judgment will tell you that it is best to put your savings in an institution like ours that pays 5% without risk of loss.

'KISS HIM,' SAID DINER TO MARY GARDEN — SHE DID

CHICAGO.—A woman of her word is Mary Garden, Chicago's "Own Mary," the famous opera singer. She proved this fact recently at a banquet in honor of the composer, Italo Montemezzi.

On Mary's right sat Harold F. McCormick, patron saint of the Chicago Grand Opera Association. Mary was called on to speak and after explaining it was not her custom to speak in public, for she was a very, very, yes, very, timid woman, Mary said:

"But I'm with Mr. McCormick and the opera association until the last, I'll do anything for McCormick and."

"Kiss him," broke in one of the banqueters, "kiss him."

And Mary did—not once, but twice.

NO HEIRS FOR ESTATE. SAN FRANCISCO.—The $35,000 estate of Harry Hastings, a waiter, is about to revert to the state of California, because no heirs can be found. Hastings came from the east 20 years ago.

GIRL MEMBER OF BURGLAR GANG CAUGHT UNDER BED

CHICAGO, Ill.—Hunting through a burglar's flat used as a storage warehouse for their plunder the police discovered a rug rolled up and thrust under a bed. Unrolling it, they discovered a partially clad and vehemently protesting young woman. Taken to a police station, she gave the name of Helen Pfeiffer and confessed to being a member of the burglar gang. Her statements helped the police in the arrest of several others of the gang.

The girl acted as a "lookout" when burglaries were committed. Thousands of dollars' worth of plunder was recovered.

BIG FIRE LOSS

CLEVELAND — Damage estimated at $200,000 was done by fire here Thursday to the plant of the United States Gypsum Company. One thousand tons of gypsum, electric motors and other machinery were consumed.

$100 FOR A DRINK. SAN FRANCISCO.—Whiskey costs $100 a drink here, William Burke was fined that sum for totting on his hip a flask containing just one good sized jolt.

EX-KAISER'S AUTO WHITE ELEPHANT

Ballet Girls of London Ride in Former Emperor's Car.

PURCHASED AT AUCTION

Inside Presents Compartments
of a Modern Home.

By FORBES FAIRBAIRN
LONDON—Ballet girls of "Ballet Bouffes," London's biggest musical success, are riding home these nights
on cushions meant for the ex-imperial limbs on the ex-Kaiser. The most sumptuous car in the world,
seized as Hohenzollern property by the British Government at the outbreak of war is now owned by Gladys Dillon, revue producer.

Miss Dillon has owned the car for a year, but wouldn't have had it week if she could have sold it. It came to her from a Norwegian together with a yacht once raced by the Emperor Wilhelm. Both were bought by the Norwegian at public auction. After trying to pay their upkeep for three years he presented them to Miss Dillon.

The car is so magnificent that nobody will buy it. It has a combined
dinner and card table in the rear,
with seats for seven arranged around
it. In the back is a cello and an installation whereby lunches can be cooked at short order. The carriage, including the driver's seat,
which accommodates three is in mahogany. It is upholstered in blue with silver in Oriental design. Sunken opaque lights supply the illumination. The floor is parquet oak.
Silken curtains conceal the windows,
which are protected by sheet glass
an inch thick. The engine of the car is a 70-horsepower machine.

On armistice night, Miss Dillon
ventured to appear in the car at the Criter restaurant. Hooligans from the East End surrounded it and made such a disturbance that a policeman turned in a riot call, and an armed squad had to escort the car back to its garage. Since then the only use to which it has been put has been to convey members of the ballet in Miss Dillon's theatre to their homes when the show has closed unusually late. The entire ballet has been conveyed in three trips.

The car is a white elephant,
Miss Dillon told University Service.
"Englishmen won't buy it because it belonged to the Kaiser and because they say it is too 'swanky'.
Frenchmen won't buy it because of the 70 per cent duty they would have to pay to get it into France. The only man who can afford to keep the car is an American millionaire, and I am now considering three offers from New York."

English automobile experts who have seen the car pronounce it the most luxurious in the world. It is priced at $15,000.

MARRIED 13 MINUTES AFTER TEN ON UNLUCKY FRIDAY

CANTON — It's Friday the 13th
to most of the world, but to George
E. Bolton, of Dayton, and Miss Pearl
H. Royer, of Middlebranch, it is the day of culmination of romance.

Mr. G. Buentemeier Tells How Cuticura Healed Pimples

"My whole body was full of red pimples. The skin started to itch and I would rub it, and the more I scratched the more the pimples spread,
and I could not sleep. When it got warm, the pimples itched so I could not work, and when I rubbed, the skin
would get red and burn, and my whole body was filled with eruptions for six months."

"Then I started to use Cuticura
Soap and Ointment. After I used them a week I found relief and I only used three cakes of Cuticura Soap
and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment
when I was healed." (Signed)
George Buentemeier, Pine Top,
Miss., May 30, 1919.

For every purpose of the toilet and bath, Cuticura Soap, Ointment and

NATIONAL LEADERS TO DISCUSS AMERICA'S VITAL PROBLEMS

A LIMA NEWS Feature of Commanding Importance in Which the Industrial, Financial and Political Figures in the Country Will Give Views Direct to the Public In the Lima Sunday News

America is confronted, both internally and externally, with the gravest and most momentous problems in her history as a nation.

On the threshold of what promises to be the most important presidential campaign thru which the nation has yet passed, Americans face, in addition to grave political issues, all the other tremendously important decisions which must be made as a result of this nation's entrance into the arena of world affairs. The questions growing out of the world war, reconstruction, the rebirth of the world, all must be met and settled. And this country is called upon to play a leading part.

Then there are the great economic and industrial problems which face us, the labor problems, the high cost of living, stretching out in an almost innumerable array.

The best brains in America are needed to guide the country through these perilous times. The best council must be heard.

The men who are building America, who are helping to guide her destinies, whose voice is heard in the government are the men to whom we desire to listen now.

EDWARD S. VAN ZILE

has talked with these men. He will retail their views, verbatim, to the public, in a series of the most remarkable interviews with public men ever offered thru a newspaper.

There will be an interview with every prominent candidate for the Presidency. There will be interviews with leading bankers, government officials, labor leaders, and captains of industry.

The object of these interviews is to present the authoritative thought of the country, gathered from the highest and best-informed sources, on the crucial issues of the times.

EDWARD S. VAN ZILE is probably the best-known interviewer in the country. For years newspapers have bid for his reports of the views of noted men.

Interviewing is one of the most difficult of the finer arts and there is no such thing as a born interviewer. The successful interviewer is the product of long experience, wide knowledge of books, men and events.

For years Mr. Van Zile has been known as one of the most brilliant as well as reliable interviewers in the United States. He enjoys the confidence of the big men of the nation and has a number of historic newspaper "beats" to his credit.

For the next several months Mr. Van Zile will write one interview each week with some of the leading men and women of the country.

The names of some of the persons with whom Mr. Van Zile will write interviews appear below. They include commanding figures in the industrial, political and financial worlds.

SOME OF THOSE WHO WILL CONTRIBUTE THEIR VIEWS ON IMPORTANT QUESTIONS OF THE DAY IN THIS SERIES OF INTERVIEWS

CHARLES H. SABIN, President of the Guaranty Trust Company, New York, the largest institution of its kind in the world.

HENRY P. DAVISON, member of J. P. Morgan & Co., and head of the American Red Cross.

THOMAS R. MARSHALL, Vice-President of the United States.

MARCEL KNECHT, French High Commissioner to America.

HIRAM JOHNSON, United States Senator from California, and Candidate for Republican Presidential nomination.

JOSEPHUS DANIELS, Secretary of the Navy.

HENRY CABOT LODGE, United States Senator from Massachusetts, and Republican leader of the Senate.

MRS. JOHN G. SOUTH, newly appointed leader of the Republican women.

A. MITCHELL PALMER, Attorney General of the United States, the man who is in charge of all activities against the radical and anarchistic element in this country.

MEDILL McCORMICK, United States Senator from Illinois, and important publicist.

HOMER S. CUMMINGS, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

GEORGE W. PERKINS, banker, industrial captain and political leader.

WARREN G. HARDING, United States Senator from Ohio, prominently mentioned for the Republican Presidential nomination.

CHARLES M. SCHWAB, head of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, and the man who built the ships to carry American soldiers to France.

"The Plant of the Counterfeiters" is the title of the third of a series of thrilling detective stories by America's great detective Wm. J. Flynn. These articles will appear exclusively in

The Coon Who Will Spoon by The Moon to the Tune Which They Croon 'Ain't No More

LONDON.—London will soon be deluged with a new crop of American songs, says a writer who modestly hides his identity behind the initials M. K. H., continuing:

Before the month is up we shall all be singing gaily about Savannah, Louisiana and Havana, these names coming in at the end of every other line. They are useful places, because they rhyme with "little" Savannah, who plays the grand piano, and also with "Johanna, who wears a red bandana and eats a banana."

But they leave me cold. You, poor ignoramus, will like them because the people in these places seem to lead such happy lives. You know that they are all coons who sit and spoon to Southern tunes under Georgia moons while "mammy" croons.

That sounds good to you, doesn't it? It used to sound good to me, too. Many years ago I heard these songs with peculiar envy in my heart for the people they portrayed. That was the life for me, I thought, the land of peaches and watermelons, perpetual moonlight, and darkness with their banjos and lullabies.

The days there would flow on in one continuous stream of ragtime melody.

At last I could hear it no longer, and I packed up and went to Havana, Savannah and Louisiana.

Was life one sweet ragtime? It was not!

I don't want to let myself in for a libel suit, but the writers of these songs seem slightly misinformed about Georgia.

Why, there are no coons in the South; they are all "colored gentlemen," dealers in real estate, prosperous merchants, and cotton brokers.

"A CULLED POISON." "Are you a coon?" I asked mildly of a dressed-up young dandy with a brown skin and a fashionable sports shirt and jumper.

"Coon?" she replied shrilly. "Coon? Who are you callin' names? I see a culled poison, and don't you be callin' me no nigger!"

And so it was everywhere. Dark-skinned owners of offices in towering skyscrapers, running electric plants, managing elevator systems, motor carriages, and telephones, but the crooning, spooning business seemed to have come to a standstill somewhere.

"What's the matter with you, anyway?" I asked Judge Rastus Pinkerton Brown (colored). Savannah's most progressive negro lawyer.

"You're all wrong. You disappointed me. You ought to have a banjo instead of that dispatch case, a red cotton handkerchief instead of a smart gray felt hat, a torn shirt instead of that well-cut morning coat, bare feet instead of shining shoes."

and spats. What has happened to you all?" Judge Rastus favored me with a very wide smile.

POVERTY LEFT WITH BOOZE. "It's this way, boss," he said. "The old-time nigger used to have all the drink he wanted—corn whiskey and mint julep when his master had it, punch and brandy. The darkey loves his drink better than the white folks do. Any one can croon and sing and spoon when they can get whiskey; in fact, it was all we could afford to do then. But now that we can't spend our money we've grown so prosperous and energetic and business-like that we have no time for all that peaches and banjo stuff except in the songs written by poor white trash."

I don't know how you feel about it, but it has ruined the prospect of new songs for me.

And I have just heard that my young sister has bought a ukulele.

WOOD SPEAKS IN COLUMBUS CLEVELAND—Major General Leonard Wood was due here Thursday night for two addresses. He is to be the principal speaker at the conference of the Lincoln American Alliance and is also scheduled to address the Exchange Club later in the evening.

COMMUNISTS WANT SAME TREATMENT AS KAISER

THE HAGUE—Citing Holland's refusal to surrender the ex-Kaiser as a precedent, seven Dutch labor unions have adopted a joint resolution demanding from the government the same rights for Russian Communist prisoners who are in jail in this country.

The resolutions contend that the Russian prisoners are "political refugees" in the same sense as the ex-Kaiser.

New System of Fat Reduction

Here's a new way for all fat people to laugh together at that old bugaboo—Obesity. The saying that "there is nothing new under the sun" does not now apply to fat people any more.

There is something new for them—a new sensation, a new pleasure, a new and graceful figure, easily found by anyone who is passing beyond the limits of slenderness. Everyone has heard of the Marmola Prescription; that harmless combination of fat-reducing elements discovered by one of our foremost physicians. Now, from the same high authority, there comes another idea—the idea of condensing these same pure, harmless ingredients into a pleasant little tablet. Taken after eating and at bedtime, they help the stomach to dispose of all the fatty foods, converting them into compact, solid flesh, muscle and energy, without dieting or exercise. Marmola Prescription Tablets regulate the entire system—do for you what bodily exertion and self-denial can not do, and the fat, once melted, is gone for good. You can prove all this at a trifling cost. Marmola Prescription Tablets are sold by all druggists or sent post paid by the Marmola Co., 364 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. A large case—sufficient to bring lasting results—is but $1.

A Home Treatment for Asthma

Makes Breathing Easy

A Worcester, Mass. doctor has suggested the following simple, harmless and inexpensive home treatment for bronchial asthma, chronic bronchitis and coughs and colds which threaten to affect the lungs.

H. F. Vorkamp, Central Drug Co., Hunter's drug stores or any reliable druggist's get a bottle of Oxidase (essential oil) tablets and slowly dissolve one tablet in mouth at regular intervals. Though harmless and pleasant they are so powerful in their action that even in stubborn cases relief often comes in just a few minutes.

Many users who for years have been obliged to sit up in bed gasping for breath and unable to sleep report that they now take an Oxidase tablet when going to bed and can then lie down and breathe easily and naturally and get a good night's restful sleep.

H. F. Vorkamp, Central Drug Co., Hunter's drug stores can supply you. Druggists everywhere are selling Oxidase tablets on a positive guarantee to refund the full purchase price of the first package if it fails to give prompt relief in any case of Bronchial Coughs or Asthma.

This fact will emphasize the importance of the advice we have been giving you men of Lima. We've said it before. Now it's confirmed in Washington.

At the conclusion of a conference at the Department of Justice in Washington, presided over by Assistant Attorney General Figg and participated in by manufacturers, retailers and labor interests of the men's clothing industry, it was stated there was NO HOPE FOR CHEAPER CLOTHES FOR MEN.

The dispatch at the right forcefully tells the story. It probably is the best reason why you should order your EASTER SUIT NOW—SAVE MONEY and AVOID DISAPPOINTMENT.

FIGG LEAVES NO HOPE OF CHEAPER TOGS FOR MEN

(From the Chicago Tribune)
Washington, D. C. Feb. 3.—(Special)—That no reduction in the prices of clothing may be expected, and that they may go higher in 1921, was asserted by Ludwig Stein of Chicago, president of the National Association of Clothiers tonight, following the conclusion of conference of manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers of men's clothing at the department of justice.
Mr. Stein's statement indicated that the department of justice's crusade against the high cost of clothing had come to nothing.
Assistant Attorney General H. E. Figg, with whom the clothing men conferred, issued a statement which urged increased production cooperative efforts toward eliminating waste before material reductions in price could be anticipated.
Incorporated in Mr. Figg's statement were resolutions adopted by the clothing men pledging themselves to co-operate in the prosecution of profiteers in the clothing business, but expressing the belief that there are none. The department of justice was asked to make a full investigation, and if it finds that clothing wholesalers and retailers are not profiting to issue a statement stating that fact to the public.

NEW AIR MACHINE BREAKS RECORD

Exceeds Specifications in Trial Test At Cleveland

CLEVELAND — In the presence of the trial board of naval officers from Washington, a huge Martin Torpedoplane, carrying a total weight of 10,400 pounds, exceeded all specifications set for it in trial flights here Wednesday.

The machine measures 72 feet from tip to tip is 45 feet long and 14 feet high. It carries three men, four hours' fuel, two machine guns and 1,000 rounds of ammunition and a huge navy torpedo, weighing nearly a ton.

To the good grocer, Molly said, "Oh Sir! That Golden Sun Coffee's just right. To make it's a pleasure and I'm sure of good measure. And it's always a constant delight."

BUYING coffee in 25 and 50 pound lots is a mistake—that is if you want good coffee. Roasted coffee gets stale, like soggy peanuts, unless packed in small, moisture proof pound packages like Golden Sun.

OUR BIG RESERVOIR

MOST PEOPLE HAVE been under the impression that we had a big storage reservoir, almost ready for filling with water. They have been wrong. What we really have is a big hole in the ground that resembles, to some extent, a reservoir, but which cannot function as a reservoir for months to come.

WITH THE CLEARING away of the snow and ice city officials have found the true state of affairs. They found just what might have been found last fall or a year ago last fall—some banks thrown up around the old creek channel and a big tract of land within covered with weeds and undergrowth; partly rip-rapped banks and some bum machinery.

JUST WHAT WILL BE necessary to get the reservoir in shape to receive water and insure against a famine under almost any conditions here cannot be told at this time. It is certain that some of the work that has been done will have to be undone; that someone will have to make good what could have been done right in the first place. But this all takes time and when it is completed it should be in such condition that the taxpayers' money will not go for something that will always be a white elephant from the standpoint of upkeep. It should be perfect and it is the business of the administration to see that it is and such has been promised.

WE HAVE WAITED some three years for this big lake. It will be necessary for us to wait a while longer. There is too much money involved to allow it to be done in a slipshod manner.

RECEIVING OUR DEAD

STEPS HAVE BEEN TAKEN by the government to bring back from France our heroic dead. An official of the war department will go abroad soon to supervise the work of having the bodies of the brave men who gave their lives in the interest of humanity brought to their native land.

LIMA HAS A NUMBER of young men sleeping beneath the poppies. They undoubtedly will be brought back with the rest. If they are it is the duty of the city to arrange for proper services. This should not be put off until the last minute and then done in a half-way measure. We must plan a great memorial in which every citizen of the city may participate for it is due our heroes.

MISS LIMA: "Without warning Emma Goldmann kissed a Finland newspaper man. Journalism always was a precarious profession."

THE CROWN PRINCE'S OFFER

THE CROWN PRINCE had offered to sub for the large number of Germans accused by the Allies of war crimes. In offering himself in their stead he probably thought he would get some publicity, which he did. He craves it. He probably saw the chance to be made a martyr of if the Allies were so dense as to accept his proposal. He would go down in history as having made a great sacrifice, no matter what the outcome of the trial. Such an offer is not acceptable to the world. If there are other officers who are guilty of crimes they should be made to stand in their own shoes. Substitution will not suffice.

SUPERSTITIONS

THIS IS FRIDAY, the thirteenth. If you are superstitious you probably have been very careful today and have lived thru it in dread of the worst. But it didn't happen. There are a lot of folks who would tell you that this is their lucky day. At any rate it has passed about the same as any other day. Friday, the thirteenth, will occur again in August.

WHOSE FAULT WAS IT?

CHARGES THAT Admiral Sims has spent only a small part of his naval career at sea, were made by Secretary Daniels in his tilt with the American sea lord over service medals. Daniels won the first skirmish, partly thru this accusation. Granting that it is true, whose fault was it that Sims spent so much time among the land lubbers? He was doing what he was ordered to do and part of the time he was acting under Mr. Daniels' orders.

REJECTED BY MARINES OHIO MAN TAKES TANLAC AND IS THEN ACCEPTED

Lester Curtin, Of Toledo, Tells Of His Efforts To Enlist Which Finally Were Successful.

HE LOOKED AND FELT LIKE DIFFERENT MAN

"Tanlac Was My Friend In Need And Can Be Depend- ed On" He States—Was Twice Wounded In Battle.

"Tanlac has been the 'Friend In Need' to me and I will always have a good word for it," said Lester Curtin, 127 Superior street, Toledo, while discussing the medicine a few days ago. Mr. Curtin served with the Marines in France and has two wounds, one in the arm and one in the leg received while in the fighting "Over There."

"I can say with all sincerity," he added, "that Tanlac is wonderful medicine. For I took six or seven bottles in 1917 and it put me right on my feet after I had suffered for more than two years with a case of stomach trouble that it seemed like nothing could relieve. My stomach would bloat up so with sour gas and hurt me so bad at times I couldn't even stand to wear a belt. I was in such a miserable run-down condition when I commenced taking Tanlac that I only weighed one hundred and twenty pounds. I tried to enlist in the Marines, but was under weight and in such bad shape physically that they wouldn't take me."

"But Tanlac soon did away with all the sourness, bloating and stomach misery and my appetite, which had been very poor for a long time soon came back in full force, and after taking a few bottles of Tanlac I felt like a different person. I gained in weight and strength rapidly and was soon able to pass the rigid examination required by the Marines and, so I got in that branch of the service. With the fine start toward robust health Tanlac gave me before entering the army and the physical exercise and training I received while in the service I came home weighing one hundred and seventy-two pounds, and that is my weight today. Quite a difference in that and what I weighed before I took any Tanlac, isn't there? Since being mustered out of service last year and returning to my old trade as chef and to my careless ways of living, as well, my stomach began bothering me slightly a few days ago. But, knowing so well what Tanlac did for me before, I immediately got a bottle and it soon had me in first class shape again. One can certainly depend upon Tanlac for results. At least I have found it that way and there's nothing to good for me to say for it."

There is not a single portion of the body that is not benefited by the helpful action of Tanlac, which begins its work by stimulating the digestive and assimilative organs thereby enriching the blood and invigorating the whole system. Next, it enables the weak, worn-out stomach to thoroughly digest its food, permitting the nourishing elements to be converted into blood, bone and muscle.

It overcomes, it is said, that great evening cause of disease—weakness. It renders the body vigorously and elastic, keeps the mind clear and energetic, and throws off the symptoms of nervousness and indigestion. It builds up the constitution weakened by disease and mental and physical overwork, quickens convalescence, and is an unfailing source of comfort to all sufferers from such troubles.

Tanlac is sold in Lima at Hunter's Drug Stores and the leading druggists in every town.

WHAT THE STARS PREDICT

This is a most unlucky day.

For that reason it is best to avoid all initiative and to keep to customary routine.

Writings of all sorts have an unfortunate augury today; contracts should not be signed or important letters written.

Disappointments for presidential candidates who are confident of success is predicted under this sign.

This is an unfortunate day for beginning journeys. Accidents of all descriptions, but particularly those concerned with automobiles are foreshadowed.

Persons whose birthday this is will need all their insight and care to avoid pitfalls this year. Children born today will likely be proud, talented and very headstrong.

PILGRIM'S PROGRESS IN SOCIETY

Liberty, says the governor of Vermont, is the right of a man to mind his own business. We didn't know there was any question about that right. We supposed the doubt was regarding his right to mind other people's business. Some men question it—unsuccessfully.

We don't suppose we are betraying any Wall Street secret in telling you in on the news that the public is now selling at a low price the stocks it bought a few months ago at a high price and that the men who are now buying from the public at the low price are the same ones who sold it at the high price. And in a few months prices will be up and the public will be buying again and the wise men now buying will be selling.

HEALTH ADVICE

By William Brady, M. D.

ACIDOSIS, FOOD AND EXERCISE

Nowadays we hear a great deal about acid intoxication or acidosis as a serious feature of various diseases. This is to be clearly distinguished from that actual or imagined "acidity" of the stomach which many people are led to believe is a disease to be treated in itself.

Acidosis is a state of the body, not only the blood but all the tissues of the body, in which there is a retention or an excessive production of an inadequate natural neutralizing certain essential by-products of the life process. These by-products represent the ash or waste left after fuel has been burned in the body. The fuel may be the food; or it may be the substance of body tissues; combustion is constant while life endures.

Suppose combustion, for some reason, slows down. In that event fuel does not burn so completely. It is not so completely oxidized. Incompletely oxidized wastes are likely to be acid in character. Thus, the waste of nitrogenous material, if incompletely oxidized, is called uric acid; it completely oxidized, thoroughly burned, the nitrogenous material yield urea.

If you burn coal or wood or almost any fuel with a free draft, plenty of oxygen, the chief waste product is carbon dioxide gas, which is itself harmless. But if you burn coal or wood or other fuel with a restricted supply of air your experiment yields carbon monoxide, a poison. Carbon monoxide consists of one atom of carbon combined with one atom of oxygen; whereas carbon dioxide (which we give off from the lungs in breathing) consists of one atom of carbon combined with two atoms of oxygen. A little more oxygen, you see, makes a tremendous difference.

When you exercise, no matter how, you absorb more oxygen than you absorb while sitting or standing still.

An individual who exercises regularly every day is better equipped to burn up his fuel than an individual who cultivates a sedentary or lazy existence. The individual who exercises completely oxidizes his waste matters, completely oxidizes his assimilated food; therefore he is not menaced constantly by incompletely oxidized substances—acid substances. He stands illness better, and has a better chance to survive a serious illness, than the sedentary individual.

Appetite is an artificial thing, tampered with and doped and altered by every art of the cook. It leads men into temptation at every meal. We are constantly tempted to eat more than we can oxidize. Particularly is this true of the sedentary classes—though, in all truth, there need be no such classes. For a sedentary individual to put away as much food at one meal or at all meals as does an individual who takes active exercise every day, is a huge mistake which has all to do with short life and ill health that physicians have said it has these many years.

Love and Married Life

By IDA McGLONE GIBSON

A STRANGE EXPLANATION

MY NURSE had ordered dinner for me, and, to my surprise, I found that I was hungry. Always the physical part of me is a surprise. The body, the soul and the mind are so closely bound together that I can never understand when one of them acts individually. My mind said conclusively that I would never care to eat again, but notwithstanding that my sense of taste made me appreciate the dainty broiled chicken, the fruit salad and perfect cup of coffee that my nurse spread before me.

After I had finished my dinner my nurse said, "There are a few letters here for you, Mrs. Gordon, would you like to see them before you go to sleep?"

"Yes, I would very much," I answered, "I am expecting a letter from my mother telling me why she could not come to this morning."

As I surmised, I found a thick envelope and recognized Cousin Charlie's handwriting. I tore it open hastily.

Dearest Woman in the World— "Don't laugh, Katherine, when I tell you why I sent you that telegram saying that your mother and I were coming to you immediately, and why I supplemented it with another which told you that it would be some days before we came. You see, I wasn't sure that you really wanted your mother, for while she is the dearest woman in the world, I knew that you had gone to Atlantic City to recuperate and I was not sure that you could stand the responsibility of even looking after her wants.

"Night before last, however, an efficient friend brought in an ouija board and while, at first, your mother seemed to think it was somewhat sacrilegious, yet finally she was persuaded to let her friend use it to answer some questions.

"At first it seemed to me it would be rather an interesting amusement for her, but, to my surprise and chagrin, that diabolical little emissary of superstition began by saying that your father insisted that you were in great danger and that your mother must go to you immediately. We could get nothing out of ouija except 'Katherine needs you, go to her,' or 'Katherine wants you, go to her immediately,' or 'Go to Katherine before it is too late.'"

Second Telegram Sent. "Your mother became almost hysterical and I sent you the first telegram to you. After you had answered it and told her how glad you would be to see her I persuaded her that you were all right and that she could take her time in making her preparations and then I sent you the second telegram. The letter dropped from my nervous fingers. What was this warning that was being sent around to all my friends? Karl Shepard was so sure in his own mind that only he could save me from something terrible that he must have gotten out of the hospital before he was really well to come to Atlantic City and pull me back from a suicide's grave. My dear little mother, too, was warned that some untoward fate was hanging over me. I never would dare to tell her the circumstances, because if I did she would forever after consider it a real message from my father, but it has come to me this way: Thoughts are living things, and although I did not know it myself, my subconscious mind must have been sending out my S. O. S. sign, and those who cared for me most, perhaps, my mother and Karl, received this call for help. Again I picked up Charlie's letter and read. "Will you please answer this letter as soon as you can, Katherine, saying that you are all right and happy, for honestly I do not think your mother is able to go to you and I want to disabuse her mind of any superstitious idea in regard to that foolish ouija board and what it might say to her." NOT STRONG ENOUGH TO WRITE

I did not have strength enough to write my mother a letter that night, so I asked the nurse to take a telegram. "While I would be awfully glad to see you, dear mother, if you do not feel able to make the journey with perfect comfort, do not come here. I will try and get over to see you before I leave for home. Don't worry about me, for I am sure I shall continue to get better daily. Lovingly yours, Katherine."

"Truly," I said to myself, "words were made to conceal thought." I had sent nothing but the exact truth to my mother and yet what she would get out of it was a lie. I was sure that from now on I would continue to get better, but I had been in great danger and I had been for the moment very ill, ill of mind, ill in soul, and I had been nearer death than I shall ever be again until I really go to that bourne from which no traveler ever returns. Tomorrow—A Page from Helen's Soul.

The many friends of Mrs. Nellie Lowery, R. N., W. Spring-st., will be pleased to learn that she is slowly recovering from an attack of influenza. She contracted the disease while caring for patients. Her daughter, Mrs. Karl Jansson, is here from Springfield.

Mrs. Foster Sanders charmingly entertained the members of the Lotus Social club at her home on Thursday afternoon. There were two tables of euchre and at the conclusion of the game Mrs. C. E. Durbin and Mrs. Kelly Watkins held high score while Mrs. Ralph Jacobs was "consolidated." The rooms were resplendent with potted plants and dainty valentines were used as score cards. At 7 o'clock the hostess served a delicious tea assisted by her mother, Mrs. Jack Harbott.

Members enjoying the affair were: Mrs. N. F. Hall, Mrs. P. A. Kershaw, Mrs. Kelly Watkins, Mrs. Frank Nelson, Mrs. C. E. Durbin, Mrs. Ralph Jacobs, Mrs. Harry Walborn and Mrs. Clarence Reel.

In a fortnight the club will meet with Mrs. C. E. Durbin, E. High-st.

The Memorial Hall was filled to its capacity on Thursday evening when Miss Agnes Kountz Dedrich, lyric soprano, and her accompanist, Miss Loretta Louey appeared under the auspices of the St. Rose Alumni Association. A large sum was realized from the concert, and the proceeds are to be used for the establishment of a library as a memorial to Lieutenant Edward Vescey, Corporal Paul Gallagher, and Private Henry Mullen, all members of the St. Rose Alumni, killed in the war.

Madame Dedrich, and Miss Louey were given marked attention throughout the program and especially when the final number on the program "Flag of My Heart" was reached. This was a composition of Miss Louey.

Mrs. William Bernthel, W. Spring-st., was hostess to the members of the Excelsior club at her home on Thursday afternoon. In several clever contests Mrs. Clayton Cotterman, and Mrs. H. Helmar were successful. Mrs. Arthur Daniels and Mrs. George Higfield were welcomed as new members. In the serving of a dainty luncheon the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Carpenter and Mrs. Dove.

The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Clay Cotterman, S. Pine-st.

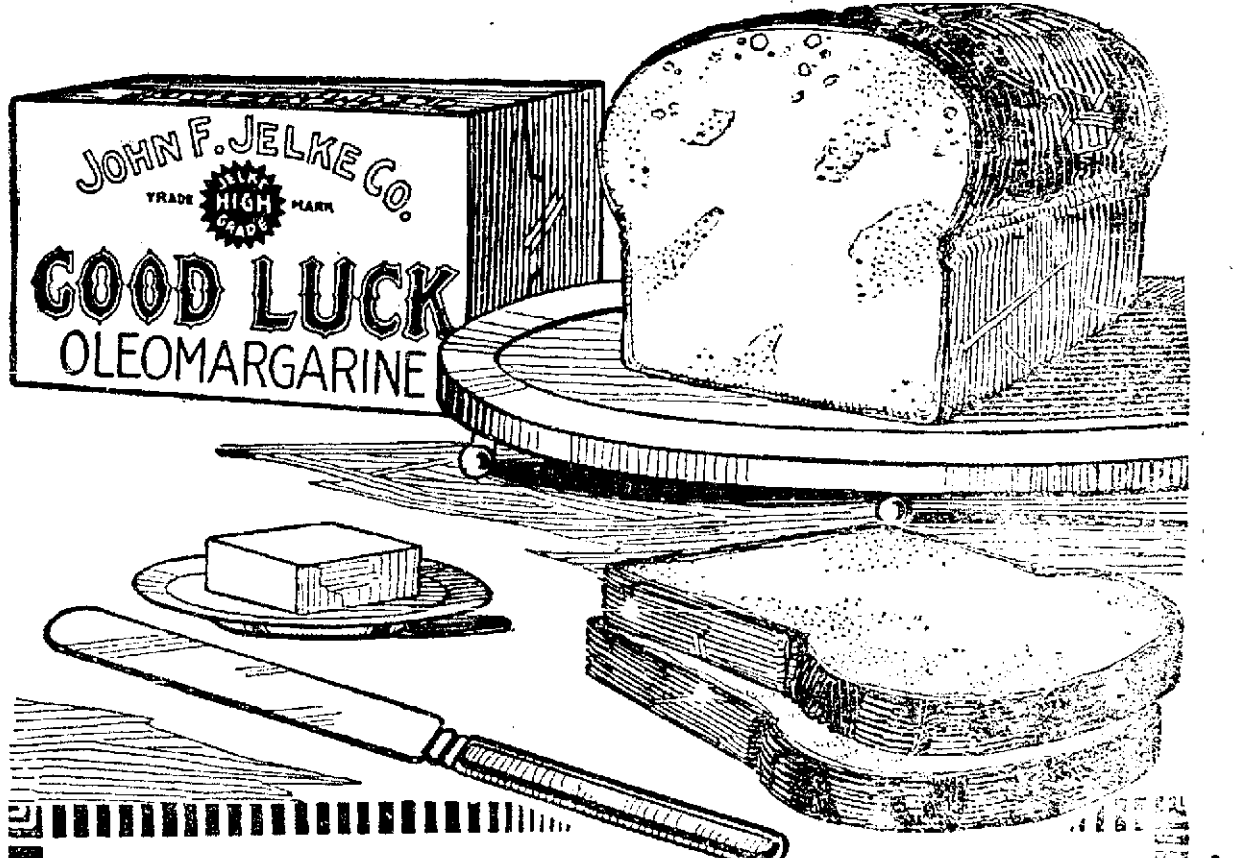

By ELOISE.

It is remarkable what a bit of organdie can do for a frock or suit. It can make the old suit look new and the new suit irresistible. Last year organdie was one of the most popular of the summer fabrics and it promises to be in just as high favor this coming season. It is already the first choice at the neckwear counter. Georgette, net and lace are striving hard to get first place in millinery's favor, but they have no chance with organdie again in the field.

All manner of dainty, attractive little sets are being shown for wear with the street frocks of serge or satin or with the new suits. Here is a smart and very youthful style which is designed more for the frock or the very juvenile Eton suit. The collar is in Buster Brown effect with a double pointed ruffle hemstitched on. The cuffs are rather unusual in design and tie on with dainty black satin bows.

Organdie is a dominant note now in the south, not only for collar and cuffs, but for frocks, flowers, scarfs and the hat. Many attractive models are fashioned from organdie and swiss. One of these was over a soft blue interlining and had a simple scarf of organdie tied in a careless bow in front. Another picturesque model, of a dull yellow Japanese braid, had a wide ruff of scalloped organdie that turned back on the him. An elaborately embroidered scarf of white organdie, with cut work and eyelets in gold, was its only trimming.

TANKS PROVE USEFUL BUCKING SNOWDRIFTS; NEW FIELD FOR THEM

PARIS.—It was generally supposed that as an adjunct of peace tanks would prove quite as useful as submarines until a French official in the employ of the Ministry of Public Works conceived the brilliant idea of harnessing one of the steel monsters to a snow-plough.

An army tank was recently sent at this official's suggestion, to the Alpine Valley of Barcelonnette, where it immediately forced its way over a snow-bound road, clearing five miles of roadway per hour for an expenditure of only one gallon of gasoline per mile.

The French Government is now experimenting on the most appropriate method of adapting its army tanks to this profitable pursuit, which will pay the cost of the tanks and their upkeep expenses during the peaceful years pending the coming of the next conflict in which they are destined to take part.

Columbus Circle, according to most reliable statistics, is New York's busiest spot. An average of 39,210 persons pass there every twelve hours.

PLAY SAFE

On every side we hear of our friends, acquaintances and business associates in bed with grip or influenza. The germs are so prevalent, that it is nothing more than a sheer necessity that extraordinary precaution be taken in avoiding them. Try to maintain your bodily health at the highest possible point by living the simple life—and keeping your vital organs free and clear of waste, impurities and disease germs. Partola "the Doctor in Candy Form", is an internal antiseptic laxative that not only helps to keep the bowels in regular working order, but also tends to clear out the disease germs that get into the body through your nose or mouth. If you give these germs "house room" in your intestinal tract they will multiply with alarming rapidity and attack your health in force. Rout them and let Partola help you, as it is doing for hundreds of thousands of other folks throughout the country. 25c, 50c and $1.00 Boxes at your Druggist's.

"A League for Nursing Education is being formed by trained nurses. Unless the pay of teachers is increased, education will soon need nursing"—Greenville, S. C., Piedmont

What Will You Do If The Farmer Goes On Strike?

In the troublous period since the signing of the armistice, labor in the United States has been involved in a series of strikes, capital "has shown a disposition to strike in the sense of not seeking investments that are essential to the country," and now the Post Office Department men, when we farmers will have to curtail production and raise only what we need for our own use, and let the other fellows look out for themselves. I have just finished figuring up what the eggs, poultry, and cream that I sold last year brought me, and I will not be in the business next year," says another. Because the price of what the farmer sells is going down and the price of what he buys is going up, he is looking, it seems, with envious and resentful eyes upon the city dweller who "works only six or eight hours a day and makes two or three times as much as the farmer," whose working-day is "from twelve to sixteen hours."

The leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST for this week, February 14th, presents the views of the leading farm journals upon the replies received from farmers by the Post Office Department to a questionnaire which it recently sent out to two hundred thousand agriculturists. There is information in this article that deeply concerns millions of city dwellings and the warming sound fed is not to be lightly ignored.

FLORENCE REED, BACK ON SCREEN, TO BE SEEN HERE SUNDAY

By ESTHER WAGNER

After an extended absence from the screen, Florence Reed, emotional actress, comes to the Majestic Theater next Sunday in her newest picture, "Her Code of Honor," the first of a series of six pictures which Miss Reed is making for United Picture Theaters, Inc. In this drama, she plays a dual role, and her versatility and perfect artistry proclaim her as one of the leading cinema players.

THE PLOT
Helen is a struggling artist in the Latin Quarter of Paris, and has for an adoring neighbor Tom Davis, a young American, who is also an artist. Helen, however, favors Jacques, a young business man, and rejects Tom, telling him she is engaged to Jacques. Being told that the latter is married, Helen investigates and accidentally meets Jacques' little son. With the coming of her baby daughter, Helen, the mother, dies with a last request that the letter she now gives to Tom be handed to her child when she grows up. This trust Tom accepts with the child, and returns to America, where he brings the child Alice up in great elegance and comfort. Pretty and twenty, Alice naturally attracts the young men of her acquaintance, and soon confesses to Tom that she has promised to marry young Eugene LaSalle. Tom then fulfills his promise to Helen by giving the letter to Alice. From this letter she learns who she really is and the fate of her mother. She finds in the letter an engraved ring which her father had given to her mother, and learns that there was another similar to it. Suddenly she remembers a ring that Eugene wears, and which he had informed her, was an heirloom from his father. The climax to this thrilling drama is most unexpected, and the story is rounded out very satisfactorily. The distinguished cast includes: Florence Reed, William Desmond, Irvin Cummings, Alec Francis and Robert Frazier. "Her Code of Honor" will be shown for two days at the Majestic, starting next Sunday.

ORPHEUM—The combined miniature musical comedy and big time vaudeville program at the Orpheum for the last half of his week and Sunday is a dandy show from start to finish and everyone who went to the Orpheum Thursday was delighted with the offering. The extravaganza is presented by the "All American Girls," an aggregation of young women who know how to charm you completely, how to sing and how to dance and how to wear stunning wardrobe. Featured in the act is Hal Hoyt, the celebrated comedian, who created the original comic opera role of Bud Fisher's newspaper cartoon character, "Mutt." Draper & Sauls, former stars of minstrelsy, have a veritable tumult of fun and frolic, every line of which is new. There is plenty of other amusing attractions to make up a complete bill.

A dominant line of action permeates the adaptation of Chas. P. Tazewell's favorite melodrama of yesterday, "In Old Kentucky," now in its fourth day of a five-day exhibition at the Regent. As put forward by Marshall Neilan, the young director who is "Daddy Long Legs" and other notable successes to his credit, it presents a series of dramatic events calculated to please the most exacting patron of the movies. I want you to find it here: If you're searching for romance you'll find that too. And if you want a quota of exciting thrills you will be greeted with an abundance of them. And to cap those pictorial highlights you will be introduced with rich atmosphere and an adequate vein of humor. Each characterization is interestingly drawn and interpreted. The plot details a romance between a girl from "them thar" Hills and a young man from the Blue Grass. Mahlon Hamilton (best remembered as "Daddy Long Legs" with Mary Pickford in the picture of that title) is seen as the Blue Grass beau. He is the owner of an extensive plantation and a race horse called "Queen Bess." The events leading up to the race—which is decidedly the best ever seen on the screen—are most engrossing. Anita Stewart is capital in the roll of Madge Brierly and perform perhaps the most hazardous "stunt" ever incorporated in a motion picture film—that of jumping a horse over a broken draw-bridge which spans a chasm five hundred feet deep.

The Regent is showing an added feature attraction the first Americanization film, "The Land of Opportunity," depicting an incident in the life of Abraham Lincoln. This is in reality a photoplay Gem and is appreciated by every class of photoplay patron. It is crammed with common-sense logic, humor and pathos. It is worthy the attention of every citizen.

RIALTO—One of the most realistic scenes ever put in a motion picture is a fight for life against raging waters of a western river, shown in "The Beast," a William Fox production starring George Walsh.

When the Walsh company went to Arizona to film the picture, it was found that the river was at its height; so the director, Richard Stanton, congratulated himself that he would have a torrent equal to the ability of his star, who is an expert swimmer and athlete. In accordance with the scenario specifications, into the raging waters plunged Walsh with a struggling girl in his arms. The swift, swirling current bore them down stream. It was hard swimming even for Walsh. Two wet heads bobbed above the flood. Then occurred what the scenario didn't call for. The swimmers struck a rock and were separated. Down stream was swept the girl, shrieking in earnest. Walsh pursued, as fast as he could swim, caught a lock of her hair and held on. She struggled madly, making it difficult to help her but his final rescue of the heroine was "great," according to the breathless watchers on the bank. "The Beast" will be shown at The Rialto Theatre today.

THE LYRIC—An appealing story dramatically told, a popular star and the elaborate production for which Universal is noted, contribute to the success of "The Rider of the Law," which opens today at the Lyric theatre. Harry Carey is the star.

The story was written by G. B. Lancaster, the widely known British author. It was adapted to the screen by H. Tipton Steck and produced by Universal under the direction of H. Ford.

As Jim Kyneton of the Rangers, the star finds himself strangely involved with men who are stealing gold ore from the Midas mine. One of the men is his half-brother.

How he abides by the oath of his office as a ranger, yet smooths out the rough path for the men around him who have strayed from the straight path, is the theme of the story.

Simple Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

Rumor That Lima Will Go Wet

SOMETHING LIVELL ON A DRY SUBJECT

Millions of songs, millions of wheezes; millions of columns of newspaper space have voiced varied sentiments on the World's Greatest Amendment. Everywhere you go, everyone you meet, it's Prohibition and more Prohibition.

Now along comes a fellow by the name of Will Rogers, whose greatest asset is an inherent ability to make people laugh and he is going to take the sting out of prohibition for "wets" and "drys" alike when he shows at the Regent Theater Sunday and Monday in his latest furor of fun, "Water, Water Everywhere."

WILL ROGERS in "Water, Water Everywhere" a comedy picture

In the role of Billy Fortune, Rogers is another unique hero, displaying his daring horsemanship n'everything in this photoplay. There are decidedly thrilling and funny bits of business that "make an audience rock in its seat." One ex-cruciating scene is where the wild and woolly one sweeps down on the bar of Hell's Bells Soda Fountain. The last time he had been there he had gotten a drink with a "kick" in it.

SO ROGERS IS GOING TO TAKE THE "LID" OFF IN LIMA—But it will be the "Lid Off the Laughter Box"

Today and tomorrow are the last days for showing the big double attraction which has caused so much excitement and enjoyment to photoplays fans.

"IN OLD KENTUCKY" -and- ABRAHAM LINCOLN

There will be a SPECIAL SATURDAY MORNING MATINEE at ten o'clock tomorrow for SCHOOL CHILDREN. Parents should see that their children attend. They will get a more intimate knowledge of Abraham Lincoln and will see the best-all-around show they have ever seen.

It is said that Constance Talmadge will be seen at the Regent next week in "Two Weeks," for three days. Now this hasn't anything to do with "3 Weeks," for it's seven days shorter. But the subject—Oh, that different, too.

But don't forget about Will Rogers in "Water, Water" (rust your pipes) cause if you do you'll never get over being sorry you forgot.

The Regent Is The Place You See The Good Ones

The Housing Problem in Eskimo Land an Easy One

IT TAKES only about six hours to build a first-class winter residence in Eskimo land. The material, which is snow, costs nothing.

But the snow must be carefully selected. The bank that serves as a single storm, to be sufficiently solid and homogeneous. It must yield blocks of fine grain, yet soft enough to be easily cut with saw or snow knife.

Two men do the work, one cutting while the other builds. It is best, if practicable, to attack the side of a steep drift, making parallel cuts and lifting out the blocks as fast as they are cut. The blocks are three or four feet long, two feet high and six to eight inches thick.

Instead of laying them in parallel courses like bricks, the blocks are so laid as to form a spiral, inclined inward to form a dome-shaped structure, with the culmination of the spiral in the middle of the top, where two or three regular pieces are put in to close the dome. This is a highly ingenious method of building a dome without the aid of a scaffold.

In order to reach high enough, the builder makes a snow bench inside, on which he steps while finishing the upper part of the structure. Finally the joints are made tight by pressing snow-mortar into them, the idea being to prevent warm air inside the house from escaping.

When finished the house is ten or twelve feet high and twelve to fifteen feet in diameter, and has the appearance of a hemisphere of snow set on its flat side. A sort of entrance hall is added outside, with a passage big enough to crawl through, and on either side of it cubbyholes for the storage of harness, spare food, etc.

A window is cut in the wall of the building and covered with seals' intestines sewed together. Being translucent, they admit daylight or, as an alternative, a slab of clear, fresh-water ice may be set in the wall. This affords an excellent substitute for glass, and can be counted on not to melt in that frigid latitude.

The house is lined with the skins which form the covering of the summer Eskimo dwelling, the object of this arrangement being to prevent the warm air inside from melting the snow roof; for between the skins and the wall there is always a layer of cold air. At the top, for ventilation and to provide a draft for the family lamp, a small hole is cut.

On the side of the house opposite the entrance (within) a broad snow bench is built, with a long pole for an edge. This is the family bed. For a mattress, a thick layer of shrubs is spread upon it and over these many deer-skins, for drinking water. Water, and lots of clothes, when taken off, are rolled up and put under the skins for pillows. One blanket of skins serves to cover the whole family.

It is very warm inside, for, in effect, the snowhouse is an inhabited oven. A shallow semicircular dish of soapstone, with a wick of fat-saturated moss, serves as a lamp, deriving its oil from the drippings of a piece of seal blubber suspended near the flame. Above the lamp is hung a pot for cooking, and aloft, over the pot, is a network of thongs containing articles of clothing, put there to dry in the ascending warm air.

The lamp gives a brilliant and beautiful light; it cooks the food, it dries the clothes, it heats the house and, not least important, it melts the snow

A Whale's Worth $15,000

A FULL-GROWN bowhead whale is today worth $15,000 merely for the whalebone it carries in its mouth.

This is the species that furnishes the bulk of the commercial supply of whalebone, which is now worth $7.50 a pound. It is a denizen of Arctic seas.

The bowhead, like other whalebone whales, has no teeth. Instead its jaws are furnished with a series of long, tapering slabs of a horny substance fringed with hair. Of these slabs, which are the whalebone of commerce, there may be as many as 600.

The biggest of them are ten or twelve feet long and they are inserted in the gum of the upper jaw, from which they hang. They serve as a sieve to strain out the whale's food. Swimming along, it takes huge mouthfuls of squids and other pelagic small fry. Then the huge trap is closed and, the slabs entering and fitting into grooves in the lower jaw, the water is expelled.

Insects Stop Trains

A BUG may hold up a locomotive.

If, that is to say, there are enough of him. Caterpillars will sometimes swarm on railway tracks in such enormous numbers as to prevent the car wheels from going round. They just "slither" and the train is brought to a standstill.

The insects involved in this sort of mischief are most often the army worm, the cotton worm, the tent caterpillar and migratory locusts. Swarms of huge water beetles have been known to halt trains in this way.

Will the Walrus Follow the Buffalo to Oblivion?

THE killing off of the walrus had far more than anything else to do with the peril of starvation which menaced the very existence of the Alaskan Eskimos only a few years ago. Reindeer, imported from Siberia, have saved them, but to them the loss of the gigantic marine mammal is a really dreadful misfortune.

The walrus is one of the most useful creatures provided by a bountiful providence for the benefit of mankind, and since that lamentable time has been the main dependence of the Eskimos in Alaska.

There are today comparatively few walrus left alive, and the prospect is that before long this valuable species will be virtually exterminated. Persistent slaughter has reduced its numbers to such a point that there is no longer much profit in hunting it for commercial purposes, wherein lies the only hope for its survival.

Hunters seek the beast for its tusks, which are of very fine ivory; for its hide, which makes first-rate leather, and even for its whiskers, which furnish picks for opium pipes. To the Eskimo it is (or was) food, clothing, house, utensils (from bones and tusks) and most other necessities of life.

More than half a century ago the whalers, responding to a commercial demand for ivory, turned their attention to the walrus and proceeded to wipe them out systematically. Sometimes as many as 2000 of the animals were slaughtered on a single cake of ice merely for their tusks. Thus today a walrus is hardly to be found in waters where the creatures used to be so numerous that their howlings were heard above the roar of the waves and the grinding of the ice floes.

The poor animals had no chance at all. Usually the method adopted was to approach a herd of walrus on the ice, and after picking off the most alert bulls from a safe distance with rifles, slaughter the rest at leisure.

Vivisecting the Frog

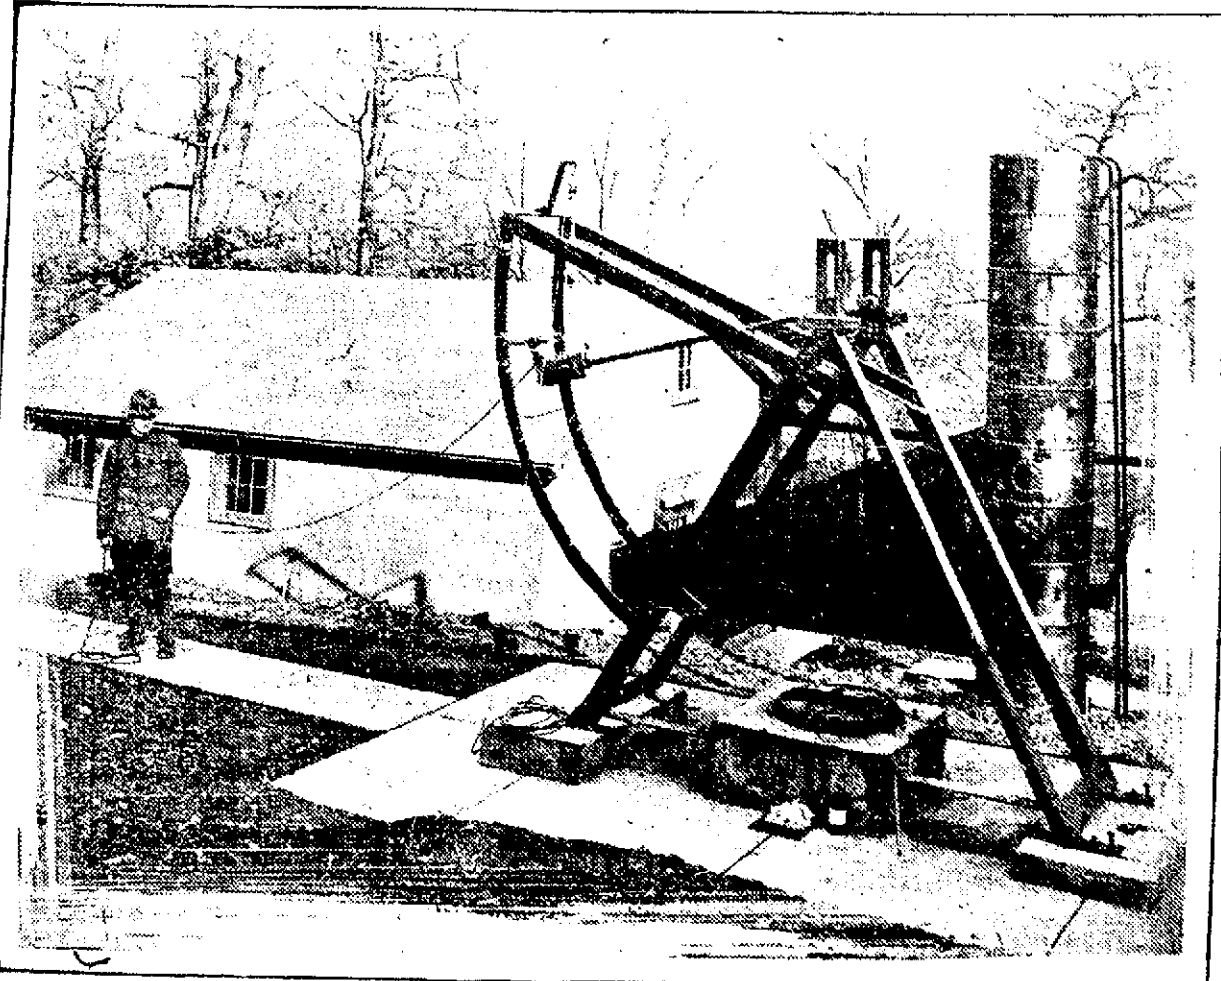

THE frog is the vivisectionist's favorite victim, not because his structure is at all human-like (though he is built somewhat like a man), but for the reason that he will endure being chopped up to a remarkable extent and still retain life. If his brain is removed he can get along without it, swallowing whatever is put into his mouth and otherwise behaving much as usual, though in automatic fashion. If his lungs are cut out he will survive for a long time because he can breathe through his skin. The corpses of his blood being remarkably large, that fluid serves admirably for the instruction of the seeker after medical knowledge.

Carrying Crippled Children Comfortably to School

Preventing Accidents in Explosives

THIS queer-looking piece of apparatus is a newly invented contrivance for testing explosives to determine whether or not they are safe to be used in mines.

When the man on the left pulls a string a trigger releases the weight on the end of the rod. Attached to the weight is a steel "shoe," which, when the weight falls, strikes a bit of explosive that has been placed on the plate beneath the middle of the apparatus.

The force of the blow thus delivered can be regulated by fastening the triggered weight higher or lower on the curved strips of steel. By this means the degree of "sensitiveness" of the explosive can be exactly ascertained. If it is set off by the blow it will not do for use in mines.

Often it happens that a charge of explosive used by a miner is set off in the process of "tamping" it, producing what is called a "blown-out shot," which is, of course, dangerous. This is liable to occur if the explosive is too sensitive, and it is just the conditions which cause accidents of the kind that the apparatus here described is meant to imitate.

FEW things in this world are more sad to see than a crippled child. Life is hard enough for anybody, but to start out upon its journey with such a physical handicap is really dreadful. Even the opportunity of proper education is often withheld from the child thus afflicted because of the difficulty experienced in getting to school and back.

Books on Wagons for Rural Folk

THE perambulating library is a new idea for the benefit of folks in rural districts. People so situated are as a rule scantily supplied with good reading matter; but this ought not to be the case, inasmuch as it is entirely feasible for the library in any fair-sized town to send out wagons (preferably motor vehicles) with small but well-chosen collections of books, for distribution in villages and from farm to farm.

The accompanying photograph shows such a wagon, with books arranged on shelves. Its sides open outward, displaying the volumes to view. Other rows of books line the interior of the vehicle, which is lighted, so that quite a considerable collection may be thus sent out.

Next time the wagon comes along it collects the books that have been read and provides a fresh supply of literature for its rural patrons.

This particular trouble, however, may be overcome by a means which the Federal Bureau of Education is recommending to the state and county authorities everywhere, viz., the "school at the school and carrying them back again."

The photograph shows this idea in operation in the city of Baltimore.

A CIRCULATING LIBRARY ON WHEELS

TEACHERS ROUGH IT IN CONTEST

Casting aside their usual classroom dignity and composure and returning for forty minutes to the days of their youth, the faculty men of South and Central high schools slammed, battered and tore their way through a game of basketball at Central gym Thursday night.

Stiff-arm jabs, slam-bang charges, and one of the best displays of general rough house work witnessed on the local court this season comprised the exhibitions of the teaching players during the contest.

South won 36 to 24.

The win represents the championship faculty team of the city—but those who witnessed the game claim that the win proves which school has the champion rough and tumble artists of this vicinity.

To say the game was rough would have been putting it mildly. Every member of the two teams from Prof. Offenhour, of Central to coach Hendershot, of South, the ten men were hocked over the floor innumerable times with skinned ankles and sore joints guaranteed as sure to exist Friday.

The game was just to the liking of more than 200 students in attendance and every lunge and scrap between the teachers was heralded by cries of "go to it" from the student body.

MAJORS MINORS PLAN UNION

CHICAGO—An agreement between the major and minor baseball will probably be reached Friday, President John Heydler of the National League said here early Friday.

President Heydler decided late Thursday to postpone his return to New York until further conferences Friday between the committees representing the major and minor league shall determine definitely whether or not a new working agreement is possible.

The failure of President Ban Johnson of the American League to lend his official sanction to the conference Thursday disturbed the calm of the diamond moguls. Johnson could not be located all day and no official committee representing the American league was present at the afternoon meeting.

Secretary Grabner, of the Chicago White Sox, Secretary Richardson of the Washington club and President Johnson's secretary attended the meeting, however.

The minor league magnates said chance for an agreement appeared small in view of Ban Johnson's reported attitude that any arrangements with the minors would be useless until the Baltimore Federal League suit attacking the validity of the national commission is settled.

Federal Baking is the secret. You see, Federal Home-made Bread is not baked like ordinary Bread, but in the big revolving glass ovens, perfected by Federal skill, that turn out 80 uniform, crispy-brown loaves every forty minutes.

Every Federal loaf is thus a perfect loaf—and so delicious in taste that before you know it, instead of one slice, you have eaten two, three, four!

Manager Gavvy Cravath and President Baker of the Phillies, in laying plans for the '920 campaign, are figuring considerable on the return of Casey Stengel, classy outfielder, to the ranks of organized ball and the Phillies.

Most fans will recall that Stengel was traded to the Phils last season by the Pirates for George Whitford and refused point blank to report to the Quaker City outfit. Stengel beat it for his home in Kansas City and organized a semi-pro team.

According to reports, he has had several long conferences with Manager Cravath on the Pacific coast, where he has been this winter, and the gardener has about made up his mind to play for Cravath. If he does he'll be a welcome addition to the club and will play right field.

FEW CHANGES IN TOURNEY

AKRON—The remarkably high scores were featured the entire day's schedule of the state bowling tourney here Thursday, only five changes were made in the standings.

L. Elsser of the Sanitary Mills of Canton, set a new record for one game when he scored 279 in his final effort while the team was rolling into fourth place among the five-men squads with 2,858. Only a few bad breaks kept him from a perfect game.

Heinie Brown, of Toledo, rolled into fourth place in the singles when he counted 659, but once again the hoodoo that reigns over alleys 3 and 4 worked to keep him out of first place.

Earlier in the day Gorman of Toledo, split in his tenth frame of the second game, and held to a 263 count that lost him high game honors. G. Heyman of Toledo, opened with a 255 count, fell to 182, then picked up 224 for a 641 count that sent him into a triple tie for tenth position.

With Thursday's game over, it takes a 2,790 count to show in the five-man event, 1,184 in the doubles and 642 in the singles.

SENIOR GIRLS LOSE GAME

The Central High ladies faculty team defeated the Senior girls team at Central gym Thursday night 13 to 3 in as pretty a basketball game as has been played here between quintets of the "weaker sex."

The school girls took the lead and held to it for the first ten minutes, when Miss Gallespie began tossing them in from all angles, bringing the count in favor of the teachers. The playing of Gallespie and Knisely, forwards for the teachers, was the feature of the game.

Lineups:

Seniors: Clara Bell, C. Sarah Laughlin, L. Knisely, R. F. Geraldine Sites, Miss Gallespie, L. F. Audrey Spyker, Miss Keep, L. G. Helen Johnson, Janet White, L. G. Dot Hunter.

Points—Lucille Knisely 6, Gallespie 7; Hunter, 3; Sites, 6.

HURLER'S GOOD WIND

Manager Gibson of the Pittsburgh Pirates says that lung power, or in other words, good wind is what every pitcher must have to make good. If that's the case, there must be some promising twirling talent among the big league magnates.

BAXTER PLANS MORE FIGHTS

Don Baxter, popular local bantam, has started training and will take up the fight game once more according to announcement Thursday night.

The popular local man will go under the wing of Ed Schlatter, manager of Kid St. Elmas, who claims that he has already secured three bouts for Baxter.

According to Schlatter Baxter can take on some of the good boys at Toledo and make a better showing than most of the lads around that part. Baxter will probably be taken before the T. A. C. next week working in one of the semi-windups.

STRETCHER THROWS WLADEK ZBYSKO

BOSTON.—Joe Stetcher, world's wrestling champion, successfully defended his title against Wladek Zbyszko, the Polish giant here Thursday night. Stetcher caught Zbyszko in his famous scissors hold and the Pole's shoulders went to the mat after one hour, 32 minutes and 20 seconds.

LOCAL GIRLS LOSE TO SIDNEY QUINTET

The Fire Fighters were defeated by the fast Killarneys of Sidney by a score of 8 to 6 Wednesday evening. This is the second time this girls' quintet has defeated the Lima aggregation.

The game was a tie until the final minutes when the Irish girls put the winning one in the net.

This local team will travel to Kenton where they will meet the Kenton Blue Streaks next Thursday. The line-up was as follows: Fire Fighters—Knisely and Gallespie, forwards; Clara Bell, center; Sproul and Harmony, guards.

NEW YORK—The stock market Friday opened irregular, following the Lincoln Birthday recess. Demand sterling on the foreign exchange was up a half cent at $3.38 1/4.

On the stock exchange United States Steel opened at 96 1/4, off 1-2; Studebaker was off 3-4; Republic at 101 1/2, up 1-4; Mexican Petroleum 165, off 1-4; A. T. & T. 96, off 1-4; Crucible 208, unchanged; Sinclair 35 1/2, off 1-4; Central Leather 73 1/2, off 3-4; Baldwin 107 1/2, up 1-2; American Woolen 120 1/4, unchanged; United States Rubber 96, up 1-8; Reading 65, unchanged; General Motors 235, off 3, and United Retail Stores 67 1/2, off 1.

The curb market was also irregular at the opening.

During the noon hour the market rallied sharply after the whole list, making up the early losses in whole or in part. The upturn was in part induced by short covering but there was also indication of good commission buying.

Baldwin rallied to about Wednesday's close at 107; Crucible recovered to 203, and General Motors to 233 3-4.

Execution of selling orders accumulated over the holiday resulted in weakness in a number of issues. The death of Henry B. Endicott, head of the Endicott Johnson company, had an adverse effect on that stock which opened at 110, off 1-8.

Steel common rallied half a point in the first few minutes above 95. A heavy selling wave hit the market during the morning and resulted in new lows being made in the list. United States Steel went down to 95 and Crucible, breaking thru 200 found a temporary bottom at 197, off 11 points net. From this point it rallied to 201 1-2. General Motors declined to 228 1-2. Pierce-Arrow, U. S. Rubber and Republic Steel also broke sharply.

After the new lows were made on this raid, the market rallied slightly, apparently on short covering. Steel holding slightly above 95.

Stirling rose to $3.40; France checks to 14.28; lire checks to 17.94, while marks were unchanged at .0104. Call money was quoted at 7 per cent.

The railroad situation seemed to have no effect on the market. The tendency on the whole list was easier. United States Steel declined to 96 and then stiffened. General Motors sold off 2 1-2 from the opening to 232 1-2 and Baldwin declined to 107 1-8. Crucible broke to 201.

The rally continued into the afternoon and included virtually the whole list. Stocks which had been hit the hardest had the sharpest advance. General Motors gained 11 points from its low of the morning. United States Steel recovered more than two and Republic four.

FRIDAY THE 13TH QUEERS TRADE

Chicago Board of Trade Notes
Nervous Grain Market
CHICAGO—Friday the 13th brot a nervous market on the Chicago board of trade. Corn and oats opened fractionally higher. Corn suffered a 2 and 3 cent drop shortly after an extensive local selling, rallied strongly by noon to 2 and 3 cents over the opening, dropping two cents again on realizing by early buyers and rallied fractionally at the close.

Oats followed corn, but the range was not so great.

Reports of increasing export demands especially from France affected both grains. A slight brace in sterling and other foreign exchanges was also a factor.

Smaller receipts than expected braced the cash market and also affected future trade.

Provisions were irregular.

Short Shavings

Johnson had been dining out with some friends. When he left to go home he found himself in a very thick fog. Stumbling along a narrow pathway, he found himself descending a flight of steps. This he felt sure was not right, and, hearing footsteps ascending, he paused. "Pardon me," he said to the dim figure which presently loomed through the fog, "but can you tell me where I am going to?" "Certainly, sir," replied the stranger, politely. "If you go straight on, you will walk into the river!" "I have just come out!"

Aunt Mary had been introduced to all the friends of the family while visiting her brother. Now, woman-like, she was trying to discover if her niece favored any young man especially.

"That young Mr. Smith, who comes here seems a clever sort of man, Maude," she began.

"Yes," replied Maude, "he is clever."

"What is his profession?"

"A bit of lawyer and a bit of musician."

"But what is he really?" asked Aunt Mary.

"Well," exclaimed the girl, "the lawyers say he is a musician, and the musicians say he is a lawyer."

An insurance man tells this one.

"Not long ago there rushed into one of our offices in the south a very excited woman, so excited in fact that she was out of breath and could speak only with difficulty. "What's the trouble?" asked one of the clerks.

"I want a policy at once—at once!" exclaimed the woman, when she had recovered sufficiently to articulate. "Our home is on fire!"

Three bushels of barley is enough to seed an acre of ground, but it takes only one-half a bushel of timothy seed to plant an acre.
